JUNIOR AT GHS WINS 4 MEDALS IN FFA CONTEST

Ronald Dellinger, Gettysburg High School junior can take credit as one of the better young farmers in the state.

The 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Dellinger, Gettysburg R. 4, won two gold medals, a silver medal and a bronze medal in the annual state Future Farmers of America project contest which ended with the judging of more than 1,000 entries from nearly all high schools in the state.

While no point standing was immediately released, Richard C. Lighter, county supervisor of agricultural education, who served as one of the judges in the state-wide event, said gold medals were given to the top ten per cent in each event. Because of the divisions of events not more than 80 projects were included in any one contest. Generally the number was 50. The youths whose projects finished in the second ten per cent will receive silver medals, and those in the third ten per cent bronze medals.

Six Enterprises

Adams County youths entered in the events won 20 medals. The county had entered 31 projects in the state-wide contest. Gettysburg High School students who entered 21 projects won 18 medals, seven of them gold, seven silver and four bronze.

Dellinger won gold medals with a six-enterprise project and a corn project; he won a silver medal for fat hogs and a bronze medal for small grains.

His six enterprise projects included such items as 300 broilers, 20 acres of corn, 13 hogs, a dairy calf, and a number of acres of barley and oats. His records of costs and income also showed he made a profit of which many farmers would be proud.

Other Gettysburg High School students also proved they were among the better juvenile farmers in the state. John Weber won a gold medal for five enterprises, and two silver medals, one for corn and one for fat hogs. David Redding won two gold medals, one for poultry and the other for four enterprises, and a silver medal for grains.

James McGaughlin won a gold medal for fat hogs and Merle Byers won a gold medal for retail truck. Leo William Woerner was awarded two silver medals, one for corn and the other for five enterprises.

Harry Peters won a silver medal for garden; John Little, a bronze medal for sow and litter; Carl Carey, a bronze medal for garden, and Joseph Clapsaddle, a bronze medal for potatoes.

Other county winners were Parker Coble, Biglerville High School, who was awarded a bronze medal for a wholesale truck project and Arlan Reynolds, New Oxford, who won a bronze medal for six enterprises.

Ground Hog Sees His Shadow And Scoots Into Hiding Again

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa.—The legendary Punxsutawney Ground Hog crawled out of his winter burrow at dawn today, saw his shadow and scurried back into his hole. By tradition this means six more weeks of wintry weather.

At least that's what Sam Light, president of the Punxsutawney Ground Hog Club, says.

Light, who acts as official interpreter of the forecasts of the "Seer of Seers" or "Oracle of Gobbler's Knob," said the fateful pronouncement was made at exactly 7:47 a.m., eastern standard time.

"I led other faithful of our club through a one-inch layer of snow to the top of Gobbler's Knob this morning to wait for the 'Seer of Seers' to emerge from his burrow," said Light. "I wore the customary silk hat, frock coat, striped trousers and carried a cane."

POWELL MIDDLETON

Lillian Boone lives in a small town you've probably never heard of — Nariya — but if you were to step inside her house you'd probably feel right at home.

The house is built in a style which might be classified as modified ranch-type, has a large living room with wall-to-wall carpeting, a master bedroom, a n o t h e r bedroom filled with small-boy clutter, a den for the man of the house, a tile bath and a large cheerful sun porch where there are canaries.

Mrs. Boone's kitchen contains an electric range, a deep freeze, an automatic washer and a clothes drier. Outside, a brand-new red-and-white station wagon stands under a shady breezeway, and in the side yard there is a flower garden, outdoor fireplace, and a little house for some rabbits belonging to the third member of the family, four-year old Oliver Boone.

The immediate reaction of a stranger visiting the Boone household for the first time might be: "Why, this is exactly what I'd expect to find back in the States!" Then, after thinking for a moment about where he is, the guest would probably ask: "How in the world did all these things get way out here?"

The question would be a logical one. Nariya is a pump station on the pipeline which carries oil from the producing fields near the Persian Gulf across northern Saudi Arabia (Continued on Page 2)

SPEAKS TWICE IN GETTYSBURG

A native of Mercer, Mrs. Woodcock is a graduate of Westminster College. She formerly was head of the radio department of Wesleyan College at Macon, Ga., and has done graduate work at Ohio State University and the University of Pittsburgh.

Besides being "wrapped up" in her subject figuratively, Mrs. Woodcock will be "wrapped up" in natural gas—literally. Her dress and accessories are made of "miracle" fabrics created through the use of natural gas as a raw material.

SUGGEST NEW SCHOOL BETWEEN 2 COMMUNITIES

The suggestion that a new school be built between Thurmont and Emmitsburg, eliminating the need for a new grade school at Thurmont and making more attractive a combination of the Thurmont and Emmitsburg senior high schools, was proposed Friday evening at a three and a half hour public meeting in the Emmitsburg High School building.

This suggestion seemed the most acceptable to the approximately 50 who braved rain and snow to attend the meeting which convened at 8 o'clock and adjourned at 11:30 p.m.

The meeting had been called by a committee named by Mrs. Bruce Richards, president of the Emmitsburg High School Parent-Teacher Association, to study the proposed merger of the Thurmont and Emmitsburg senior high schools after Mrs. Richards had received a letter from Dr. James A. Sensenbaugh, the Frederick County superintendent of schools.

This "committee of volunteers" headed by Paul Beale gathered information, conferred with Dr. Sensenbaugh and called Friday's meeting. The committee included besides Chairman Beale: Edgar Emerick, Leonard Zimmerman, Andrew Eyster, Raymond Keilholz, Mrs. Kenneth Wagman and John White.

Cite Beneficial Reasons

In the evening of discussion these reasons were advanced in favor of the proposed merger: More courses would be offered and more specialized teachers would be available; better equipment would be available than is now in use in the small Emmitsburg Senior High which has only 79 pupils; better training would be offered to fit individual needs of pupils; better extra-curricular activities would be afforded, more teachers would be engaged and the opinion was expressed there would be fewer dropouts by students after the change.

Reasons for opposing the merger at Thurmont: The bus ride of eight miles to Thurmont, limited evening activities, the opinion was expressed that such circumstances will increase dropouts; the expected effect on real estate values in Emmitsburg; the feeling that (Continued on Page 2)

PILOT LIVES THROUGH THIRD PLANE CRASH

NEW YORK (AP)—Capt. Alva V. Marsh, 49, pilot of the Northeast Airlines plane that crashed last night, was at the controls of two other planes that crashed in the same area since 1952. Neither of the previous mishaps caused passenger deaths.

Marsh's first air crash in 19 years' service with the airline occurred Jan. 14, 1952, in the East River, 300 yards from Rikers Island.

He was flying 33 passengers and a crew of two to LaGuardia Field from Boston when he ran into fog as he approached his destination. He called on radar control assistance from the airport tower.

He was over the East River when the tower's radar scope suddenly "lost" his plane. Minutes later the twin-engine Convair splashed into the river in only nine feet of water.

Crawl Through Window
Marsh and his co-pilot smashed a window in the pilot's compartment and crawled out. They punched a hole in the plane's fuselage to permit passengers to escape onto a wing. A launch soon picked them up. Six persons required hospitalization.

A veteran of more than a million air miles, Marsh said at the time he couldn't tell "how it happened." He later testified at a hearing into the crash that he thought he was over the runway.

Marsh was at the controls of another Convair on Feb. 6, 1953, when its landing gear collapsed as he landed at LaGuardia Field on a flight from Boston. The right wing was torn off and the left wing damaged but Marsh kept the plane from turning over. Three of the plane's 40 passengers suffered minor bruises.

SIX KILLED IN FRENCH CRASH

ST. LO, France (AP)—Two American four-engine planes collided in flight and plunged to the ground in flames today, killing six fliers and injuring eight more.

Observers at the scene identified the planes as B29s.

The wreckage of the planes scattered over a wide area of the Normandy countryside that was a World War II battlefield.

French authorities said that six bodies had been removed from the wreckage.

The planes collided over the little channel town of Morigny, 20 miles from St. Lo. Observers said there was almost no visibility at the time. Firemen in the area, alerted by the sound of the collision, rushed to the scene.

There were reports that survivors had parachuted.

The dead were taken to a room in the court house at Morigny, where villagers deposited flowers.

The U.S. Air Force in Paris said the planes came from the U.S. base at Southorpe, England.

More See, Jec Available

"What Can We Do In Emmitsburg To Improve Our Schools?" was the general subject discussed Friday evening. Mrs. Richards raised the question of "whether we are satisfied with the opportunities Emmitsburg High School can give us."

Discussion brought out the statement that Thurmont High now offers 16 more subjects than the Emmitsburg High School. It was pointed out also that "Emmitsburg is the fourth best tax paying district but schools here do not correspond with that tax level." One parent asked: "Can the citizens of Emmitsburg let community pride stand in the way of better education for our children?"

Under the state tax equalization law of 1924, only one teacher can be assigned for each 45 pupils and the statement was made Friday that under this measure Emmitsburg High School now has its correct ratio of teachers and pupils with no more teachers legally available for the school. The elementary school at Thurmont was described as "overcrowded" and it was pointed out that with the addition of the Emmitsburg pupils, one elementary and one junior high school teacher would be added.

Need Thurmont School
The statement was made that an elementary school must be built in Thurmont to make room for Emmitsburg students if the high school pupils are sent there. "That situation in Thurmont must be remedied before our pupils can be sent there," it was stated at the Emmitsburg meeting.

Mr. Beale pointed out that in Maryland school tax money is allotted in proportion to the number of pupils in an area. He said that to equip a chemistry laboratory or to supply a classroom full of typewriters which would be used only two hours a day "is just as expensive as to equip one to be used six hours a day with three times as many students benefitting from the same amount of tax money spent."

"Every civi-minded person in Emmitsburg would like to see our children go to school in our own community," Mrs. Robert Daugherty said. It was pointed out that there is a sufficient number of pupils in the grade schools "to some day warrant more advantages and a larger curriculum in the high school here."

Others called attention to the urgency of the present situation and cited as an example the present setup in which a teacher instructs in science in a home economics room with no laboratory facilities.

Dr. Sensesbaugh has told the PTA committee that "if anyone wants to send his children to Thurmont, he can arrange for it."

Near-blizzard conditions prevented the plane from taking off for three hours and 15 minutes. At one point, the plane was towed back into a hanger to clear the wings of ice and snow.

Rolling back on the runway, it received clearance at 6 p.m.

At the controls was Capt. Alva V. Marsh, 49, a veteran of 19 years with the airline.

Marsh said the plane was off the ground for about a minute when it started to flatten. He fought for altitude vainly.

Suddenly it heeled over sharply on its left side and plummeted earthward. Marsh and his copilot, N. G. H., said they thought their plane struck a pole on Rikers Island.

The impact of the crash tore off the plane's left wing and knocked its outboard engine from its mounting. The engine crunched into the ground, ripping off the left side of the aircraft, and burst into flames.

Cause of the crash is the object of a four-pronged investigation: By the city Police and Fire Departments, the Bronx district attorney's office, in whose domain Rikers Island lies, and the Civil Aeronautics Board.

through Jordan, Syria and Lebanon to the Mediterranean terminus at Sidon. Some 140 Aramco employees representing seven nationalities, including fourteen Americans, work and live within its one-mile-square compound set out in the middle of the sand. Four times a week, company planes from Dhahran touch down at Nariya, but most food, clothing, household goods, as well as all heavy equipment for the station itself, must be shipped in by truck over tricky terrain six hours from the town where Aramco has its headquarters.

As general superintendent of the Nariya Pump Station, O. B. Boone has the responsibility of seeing that 335,000 barrels of oil a day are sent on up the pipeline without a hitch. But his wife's job is, in its way, just as demanding. With few of the amusements which would be found in the larger oil communities of Dhahran, Abqaiq and Ras Tanura, Nariya people are more than ordinarily dependent upon their own resources for things to do during their free hours. When one of the bachelors, for example, has a birthday Mrs. Boone will bake a cake and invite everybody in to help celebrate. She acts as friend and counselor to young wives who have come to Nariya to establish homes.

And on such special times as Christmas, the Boone home is the center of activities, where tow-headed "Hoki" and Nariya's two other children show off their new presents, brought in over the desert on Santa's airplane.

Three years at the pump station have taught Mrs. Boone all the little knacks of managing a household for a busy husband and an active four-year-old in remote Nariya. But this part of her job would still baffle many an American housewife who has long since learned to take her neighborhood shopping center and supermarket for granted. Nariya has a small "Family Issue" store where regular staples and canned goods are available for everyday requirements. Plenty of fresh fruits and vegetables from such places as Lebanon, Jordan, and Eritrea in East Africa are flown in via Dhahran on regular flight schedules.

Fresh fish many kinds unheard-of in the United States, comes from the Persian Gulf fifty miles to the east. Big shipments of frozen foods are brought overland by refrigerator truck from Dhahran about once a month, and a certain portion of these go straight into the Boones' ample deep freeze.

Looking about Mrs. Boone's well-equipped kitchen, it is easy to see how every single appliance in it would have a very definite function. Every one, that is, except the clothes dryer. In a land that is noted for brilliant, hot sunshine and cloudless skies, where rainfall is an event, it would seem that a special machine for drying clothing indoors would be a useless extravagance.

"Not at all," says Mrs. Boone. "You could never know how important a clothes dryer can be out here until you've been through one of our shams."

Then she explains that a shamal is a sandstorm caused by severe winds which whip across the desert out of the north, driving tiny particles of sand and dust into hidden corners of every home, and frequently reducing visibility to a few feet. How long do these storms last? "Oh, usually a short time, but we've seen them go on for as long as five-four days, even since I've been out here."

Hanging out the laundry during a bad shamal would be simply a waste of time. And no self-respecting housewife could be expected to go fifty-four days between washings. In Nariya, where the people have learned to be content with a minimum of fancy extras, gadgets like Mrs. Boone's clothes dryer become not luxuries, but real necessities.

Communists Infiltrate Government

A check on Communist activities as requested by President Roosevelt in 1936. The viewpoint remained unchanged over the years because the estimate made by Hoover of the menace of communism was as sound in 1956 as it had been in 1919, when he wrote the lawyer's brief against the Communist Party. Time had only confirmed the estimate.

Until international communism succeeded in convincing some Americans that they owed their allegiance to the cause of Soviet Russia, a citizen's loyalty to the United States was conceded in the normal course of events. Loyalty was a quiet love of country and a pride in its ideals which all men were presumed to carry in their hearts. The government didn't question it.

But communism sowed the seeds of suspicion and distrust. The followers of communism, by their own disloyalty, by espionage and subversion and deception, created doubts that should never have been injected into the stream of American political life.

20 YEARS OF PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

At last the federal government had to face the hard facts of life. And the facts were that there had been some employees in government who were disloyal.

President Harry S. Truman in November, 1946, appointed a temporary commission to study the problem of employee loyalty and how best to bar the disloyal from the federal service.

The commission recommended in its first roughdraft report that each department and agency be responsible for its own loyalty procedures. After a study of this report, the FBI suggested that there be a Loyalty Review Board which would act as an appeals board with the power to approve or overrule actions taken against employees by the department and agency heads and which would give directions and guidance to the program.

First Broad Probe
On March 21, 1947, President Truman issued Executive Order 9835 establishing the Federal Employees Loyalty Program. The primary responsibility for employee investigations was given to the Civil Service Commission, except in cases where agencies had their own investigative staffs. A Loyalty Review Board was established, and it was ordered that the investigative agencies could refuse to disclose the names of confidential informants.

This was the beginning of the first broad-scale effort of the federal government to protect itself from subversion in the ranks of government workers. But as the months passed, the impression was lodged in the minds of many people that the FBI was investigating each employee in government and each job applicant; that the FBI was tapping employees' telephones and that surveillance was kept on thousands of employees.

Actually, the FBI had nothing to do with the great majority of the investigations of employees and applicants except to run a name check against the bureau's files to determine whether the files reflected any background information indicating disloyalty.

FBI Duties Defined
The FBI's responsibility ended with the name check unless somewhere along the line of checks the FBI or another agency received information or found something which raised a question of disloyalty. In all such cases, the FBI's duty was one of gathering as completely and accurately as possible facts to be presented to the various agencies where the power of decision rested. The FBI report never carried a recommendation for or against an employee or applicant. It is not the FBI's job to be investigator, judge and jury.

Frequently a phrase was heard that someone had been "cleared by the FBI." This of course, was not true, because the FBI had not been given that authority, nor did it seek it. Nor did the FBI "make charges" against anyone.

CONANT SAYS NAZISM IS "DEAD, BURIED"

BONN, Germany (AP) — Retiring U. S. Ambassador James B. Conant says the chances for a resurgence of militarism in Germany "are nil" and Nazism is "dead and buried."

Provided full employment and a stable currency are maintained, Conant said in an interview, "the political scene here will be that of a normal democracy."

Conant has represented the United States in West Germany since 1953, first as high commissioner and later as ambassador. A former president of Harvard University, he has resigned his post here to return to private life. He is scheduled to leave Germany Feb. 19.

Say Bruce To Go
Informed officials in Washington said yesterday President Eisenhower has chosen David K. Bruce, a Democrat who was undersecretary of state in the Truman administration, to be the new U. S. ambassador to Bonn.

Speaking in his office overlooking the Rhine River, Conant declared "Hitler and his followers are completely discredited in German eyes. Any legend of Nazism has no hold on the German people."

Concerning the buildup of West Germany's new armed forces, Conant said the people and their leaders "are hostile to any possibility of a resurgence of militarism — that is, an army state."

"This army is being raised for defense," Conant added. "It is quite impossible for any group of officers in Central Europe to believe they could go it alone."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

They're not ready yet for Carnegie Hall but ten youngsters at St. Francis Xavier School, who play under the name of "The Rubber Band," know they're on the way. With more crescendo than diminuendo, the boys manage to reach the ears of their audience. There may be a discord here and there but the drums take care of that. One thing distinguishes "The Rubber Band" from other big name bands in the country, the boys like their music loud. They haven't discovered the advantages of a "mute," yet.

Founded in September, 1956, the boys are coming up the hard way. Only two in the group have had music lessons. But they believe in learning as they go along. And they are really on their way in the world of music. Already they have played for a number of occasions at the school. The boys have been invited to play at the Delone High School Music Festival in the spring so they have a lot of practicing in view.

Favorite Selections

"The band is made up of trumpets, bugles, piano, bass drum, snare drums and a piccolo. Favorite of the youngsters are "You're in the Army Now," "Working on the Railroad," and "Yellow Rose of Texas."

Included in the group are: Stephen G. Gardner, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gardner, 227 Steinwehr Ave., grade four, trumpet; Larry J. Dillman, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Dillman, 125 W. Middle St., grade four, bugle; Michael P. Codori, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Codori, 316 N. Stratton St., grade seven, piano; Thomas V. Meligakes, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Meligakes, 60 E. Middle St., grade seven, bugle; James A. Roth, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Henry Roth, 43 South St., grade six, trumpet; Richard McCleaf, 12, son of Mr. and Dale McCleaf, 47 Breckenridge St., grade seven, trumpet; Frank V. Linn, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Linn, 210 E. Middle St., grade seven, piccolo; Joseph A. Clabaugh, 12, son of Mrs. Marie Clabaugh, 128 Chambersburg St., grade seven snare drum; George M. Groft, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Groft, grade seven, snare drum.

Absent when the picture was taken was William H. Plank Jr., 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Plank, 644 York St., grade seven, bass drum. Joseph Clabaugh, who organized the band, is the director.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO
Place Bros. Tire Recapping Plant Near Littlestown Is Destroyed In $80,000 Blaze: Fire Monday evening destroyed the Place Brothers tire recapping plant one-half mile east of Littlestown on the Littlestown-Hanover pike, leaving only the outer brick walls and chimney standing. The loss was estimated at between $80,000 and $90,000 by Preston Place, owner of the business. The fire started in the basement following two explosions in the coal furnace. It is believed that gas had formed and exploded. George Adams, employee at the plant, was badly burned about the arms and face when he opened the furnace door and the first explosion occurred. The second and larger blast followed shortly.

Canteen Group Turns Job Over To Council And School Board: Gettysburg's Teen canteen committee Monday night placed the problem of providing recreational facilities for the borough's youths squarely in the hands of the town council and school board.

Following a two-hour discussion at the Methodist church of the possibility of resuming the Teen canteen operated for over two years by the group, the members voted that "it is impractical for a small group of individuals relying on private contributions and volunteer help to attempt a program big enough to meet the town's needs" and decided "it is the duty of the county and school board as the directly elected representatives of the parents of the facilities and supervision needed to do the job."

The decision of the Teen canteen group does not mean an immediate end of the committee which organized three years ago and established the town's first Teen canteen that lasted until the room in the former Citizen's Trust building that was used by the canteen was rented to a private concern about a year ago.

"We plan to remain in operation for a while at least," Canteen committee chairman Robert E. Berkheimer said after the meeting. "We have a large amount of equipment stored at the engine house. We hope to be able to turn that equipment over to the committee set up by the town council and school board for further use by the town's youngsters."

Soroptimists Initiate Seven New Members: The Soroptimist Club entertained at a formal dinner at Hotel Gettysburg Tuesday night when they initiated seven new members. Mrs. Frederic E. Griest, served as toastmaster for the affair and Miss Kathryn Oiler gave the grace. Mrs. Robert H. Derck, guest soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Siegal, sang three numbers.

The following new members were initiated by Mrs. Charles T. Ziegler, membership chairman: Mrs. Curtis Flohr, groceries; Mrs. Milo Gallinger, Creative Crafts, Guernsey; Miss Esther Hartman, office manager, Gettysburg Ice and Storage; Mrs. Violet Hill, manager, Mitchell's Restaurant; Mrs. Dora Mae Kane, antiques, Seven Stars; Mrs. Donald Myers, welfare; and Mrs. Blaine G. Walter, auto accessories, Biglerville. They were welcomed into membership by Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, president, and presented with white corsages.

Couple Wed In Catholic Church Wednesday: Miss Josephine Frances Gallagher, daughter of Hubert Gallagher, West Middle street and James Edward Shriver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Shriver, New Oxford R. 1, were united in marriage Wednesday morning at a nuptial mass in St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, Rev. Fr.

It is a trait of human nature to want more. Even as a child, if it is given something that it likes it smiles and says: MORE! And so, throughout life, people keep working and scheming to get more whether they need it or not. As a matter of fact, it takes comparatively little to satisfy the natural hunger and urge of the body. When this has been fulfilled all effort is concentrated upon the business of getting more, no matter what that more may be.

I am reminded of the instance of a man who lived in the same small city as I did. He was in the employ of a very wealthy man, looking after his many benefactions. He went to the railroad station to get a friend in a new limousine he had just purchased. At that time there were few limousines, in fact few with the hard tops as today. He thought his friend would notice the car, but he did not, so the owner asked what he thought of it. His guest said that it was a very beautiful car. Then it was that the owner said: "Well, I really did not need it, for I already have two other cars, but I considered this new one 'the equipage of a gentleman.'" I have been reading of a very wealthy woman's estate that is to be auctioned to the public. There are jewels in the sale that run past a million dollars in value — but they have been mostly kept in safe storage and highly insured. How soon it is that all accumulations melt away! The desire for more at an end!

There is one thing that there can never be too much of and that is knowledge. More and more of that keeps adding to our joy and interest in life, and we bless and inspire others with it. We can always be happy to discover more friends. Fabulous is the value of such.

GROUND HOG DAY

This is it, the special day
The ground hog comes to look around,
And winter six weeks more will stay
If it is shadowed on the ground.

I do not know if this be true,
But I was told it years ago,
As if my lost ancestors knew
What ground hogs feel and know.

"If this should be a sunny day,
Prepare for many a wintry blast,"
My great-grandparents used to say,
"For six weeks more the cold would last."

They were a people weather wise,
With signs and omens much concerned,
But how they knew what ground hogs prize
Is something I have never learned.

Just why a ground hog flees to see
His little shadow in the sun
To me is still a mystery
And will be till my life is done.

I do not know what ground hogs think
Or how the winter they prolong,
If from their shadows dark they sink;
Perhaps my ancestors were wrong.

January Sets 43-Yr. Record In Gettysburg: The warmest January in 43 years. That was the record set by the month which passed into history Friday taking with it weather that had characterized many of its 31 days.

Only one January day, in 1930, exceeded the 70-degree record set Thursday. There were 11 days in January with temperatures of 50 or better and the last eight days set temperatures that were spring-like in their warmth. Starting January 24 through January 31 the mercury's maximum readings were never below 55 degrees.

RECORD STEEL PRODUCTION IS SEEN BY GRACE

By JOHN BAUSMAN
NEW YORK (AP) — Eugene G. Grace, chairman of Bethlehem Steel Corp., predicts record production for the steel industry in 1957. "It will be a good year," he added. "It just can't be otherwise."

Grace, who heads the world's second largest steel company, said Thursday he has been puzzled by a note of pessimism in reports on the steel industry. "There is no reason for it," the 80-year-old steel executive continued.

Grace made his remarks at a news conference following the quarterly dividend meeting of Bethlehem's board of directors.

At this meeting, the company reported record earnings in the last quarter of 1956 and record sales for the entire year, despite a 34-day strike last summer.

The directors declared a dividend of 60 cents a share on the company's new common stock which will be created in a 4-for-1 split of the old stock later this month.

The dividend, payable March 5 to stockholders of record Feb. 19, equals $2.40 on the old stock. It compares with dividends of $2.50 declared last January and $2 declared in the following three quarters of 1956.

Bethlehem's record fourth quarter earnings amounted to $61,721,468, or $5.95 a share, compared with the previous record of $57,502,400, or $5.82 a share, in the final quarter of 1955. Earnings for the year 1956 totaled $161,411,625, or $15.33 a share, compared with the 1955 record of $180,191,708 or $18.09 a share.

The company's new annual sales record was reported as $2,326,705,414 and compares with the previous record of $2,096,616,646 in 1955.

U. S. MOVES TO RESTRICT AIR TEST FLIGHTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has moved to restrict aircraft tests over populous areas in the wake of a plane collision over an Naves, Calif. Part of the wreckage plunged into a schoolyard.

The collision two days ago — involving a DC7 airliner and a jet fighter — claimed seven lives and injured 78 persons. Most of the injured were school children. Both planes were undergoing tests.

These developments came yesterday amid mounting demands for federal action.

Administrator James T. Pyle of the Civil Aeronautics Administration ordered his regional officials to work toward immediate establishment of "voluntary local flying areas" for test flights pending more formal action.

President Eisenhower instructed Edward P. Curtis, his assistant on aviation planning, to investigate means of preventing any more such accidents.

The House Commerce Committee ordered an investigation of the California tragedy. Hearings tentatively were set for Wednesday. James R. Duffey, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board is scheduled to appear at that time.

PUSH EFFORTS FOR AGREEMENT IN MIDDLE EAST

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and Canada intensified their drive for agreement on their plan to end the Israeli-Egyptian deadlock as the General Assembly Friday took up the crucial Middle East situation again.

Bolstered by unexpected backing from India, the two Western nations sought further Asian-African support for their proposal before the 80-nation Assembly.

The two-part U. S.-Canadian plan calls for Israeli troops to quit the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba coast of Egypt's Sinai Desert, and for troops of the U. N. Emergency Force to move into the disputed areas.

However, the American-Canadian effort produced no public acceptance from Israel and Egypt, the two nations on whose concurrence the plan depends.

Want Tight Guarantee
Israel still insisted on tight guarantees that the Gaza Strip would not again become a base for Arab raiders into her territory and that Egyptian guns on the Aqaba coast would not again bar her shipping from the gulf.

The Egyptians were reported still balking at any suggestion of U. N. troops taking up "occupation" duty on Egyptian soil. Egypt has insisted Israel must pull out of both Gaza and the Aqaba area without any guarantees.

Israeli sources said their government was going ahead with plans to extend its civil and social administration over Gaza. This appeared to indicate Israel has no intention of quitting the strip at this time.

Rumblings from Cairo that Egypt would not countenance UNEF occupation of her territory reportedly promoted the United States and Canada to tone down their plan.

Informed sources said Nasser apparently would agree to UNEF's presence as an observation group.

DULLES, NEHRU ROUSE BRITISH

LONDON (AP) — Egyptian President Nasser no longer holds the undisputed title of "Foreigner Most Hated in Britain." U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and Prime Minister Nehru of India moved up fast this week as strong contenders.

Most observers still gave Nasser a slight lead as consequences of the Suez Canal fiasco pinched tighter and tighter on the British economy. But Dulles' remarks on British and French soldiers and India's actions in the Kashmir dispute left Nasser's claim at least shaky.

Dulles long has been one of the less favorite figures in Britain. His popularity dropped to its new low after he told a Senate committee last Thursday: "Personally, I'd rather not have a French and British soldier beside me, one on my right and one on my left."

Cites Unpopularity
Dulles was trying to explain that one reason President Eisenhower hadn't asked Britain and France to join in his new doctrine on the Middle East was because of the unpopularity of the British and French in the Arab world as a result of the Suez invasion. But

CLARK HOLDS TO OPINION ON GOVERNOR

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clark (D-Pa.) said Friday in the face of numerous dismissals of Democratic officials at Harrisburg he sees "no reason to change my support of Gov. Leader."

"I know nothing of the merits of any particular case," Clark told a newsmen, "but I applaud the governor's statements that he intends to conduct his responsibility on a basis of high level government."

Topping the list of dismissals at the state capital has been that of Secretary of Labor and Industry John R. Torquato, veteran Cambria County Democratic political leader.

Are Suspended
Turnpike Commission Chairman G. Franklin McSorley and Commissioner James F. Torrance have been suspended from their positions following their refusal to step aside at the governor's request.

Torrance is a Republican hold-over from previous GOP administrations. McSorley is a Democrat. The two men were among more than a score indicted by a Dauphin County grand jury following the Democratic administration's investigation into Republican handling of the turnpike system.

The Torquato dismissal, however, is strictly a Democratic affair, involving the suspension also of some 23 special investigators working under Torquato in administering a special fund of more than a million dollars.

The governor's mid-term reorganization split the Pennsylvania Democrats further apart with a request to former U. S. Rep. Herbert McGlinchey to step aside temporarily from the State Tax Equalization Board. McGlinchey agreed.

Close Associate
McGlinchey is a close political associate of U. S. Rep. William J. Green, Philadelphia Democratic chairman. Both are under a federal conspiracy indictment in connection of the Tobyhanna Signal Corps Depot.

Leader's actions have led some observers to speculate that the governor is trying to catch the public eye for a try at the U. S. senatorial nomination in 1958.

Should this be the case, Sen. Clark, known as the reform mayor of Philadelphia in 1951-53, could serve as his model for a political campaign. Clark in defeating the incumbent Sen. Duff last fall was the only Democrat on the statewide ticket to win in the Republican sweep.

Ban Second Try
Leader has said nothing so far on possible senatorial ambitions. The state constitution bans a second successive try at the governor's chair.

Clark, still busy with legislative matters in his early days in the senate, would not comment further on the politics of his home state.

Deny Connection With Batt's Post

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania labor leaders Friday disclaimed any connection with Gov. Leader's appointment of a Toledo, Ohio, man as secretary of labor and industry replacing fired John R. Torquato.

"The appointment of William Batt Jr., as secretary of labor and industry is solely that of Gov. Leader as was the appointment of the previous secretary of labor and industry," the leaders said in a statement.

The statement was signed by Joseph A. McDonough, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor (AFL-CIO); Harry Boyer, president of the State CIO Council (AFL-CIO); Charles L. Slud-don, legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; and Lester Thomas, legislative representative of the United Mine Workers.

"Apricot preserves mixed with lemon rind and lemon juice, dry mustard and soy sauce make a delicious sauce to serve with roast duck."

As usual the explanation failed to catch up with the original statement in a public mind already prepared to believe the worst of Dulles.

As for Nehru, his actions in the Kashmir dispute have plunged India's relations with Britain to their lowest level since India won its independence nearly 10 years ago.

Philly Attorney Urged For Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Chief Judge William Denman of the 9th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals has urged President Eisenhower to name Judge William Henry Hastie of Philadelphia to the vacancy on the Supreme Court.

Judge Hastie, a Negro, now is a judge of the 3rd U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia.

Judge Denman said his appointment to the Supreme Court would be a powerful aid to the nation's position in world diplomacy and help dispel the idea held by some that the Negro race is inferior.

Judge Denman said Judge Hastie has outstanding judicial ability. Twice previously Judge Denman has recommended Judge Hastie be elevated to the Supreme Court.

Warriors Drop Tight 53-48 Game To Delone; Entertain Mechanicsburg On Tuesday

The Gettysburg High Warriors put up a nip and tuck battle with the Delone Squires at McSherrystown but couldn't land enough points in the final frame as the Squires squeezed out a 53-48 win over the Forneymen Friday evening before a handful of fans. Bad weather prevented more followers from attending the rematch between the two teams. Delone capped the first game at the beginning of the season.

From start to finish the two ball clubs put on a fine exhibition of basketball. Delone opened the scoring 45 seconds after the game got under way. Jim Strazzella dunked a pair of four shots followed 45 seconds later by Bob Hess' one-handed jump from the corner. "Chas" Weaver bounced back with two more charity shots while Jon Wag, nild looped a technical called against Delone. Tom Kitzmiller and Earl Little matched jump shots with Ed Roth and Jim Strazzella, followed by Weaver's pair of foul tosses to give Delone a 10-7 lead.

Kitzmiller then hit on two consecutive jump shots from the foul circle while Joe Poist ripped the cords with a push shot. Little knotted the count at 12-12 on a free throw only to be matched by Frank Keffer's one-point. While Hess drove in for a lay-up Roth was back on the foul line with one point as the first quarter ended with both teams deadlocked at 14-14.

Scoring At Minimum
The second frame was one that may have broken records for low scoring as Delone outscored the Warriors 5-4. Coach John Russ' lads tallied 2-45 after the opening on Weaver's one-handed push from the corner. Kitzmiller landed a push from the foul line 40 seconds after Delone's score. Little hit on a jump midway through the quarter to end Gettysburg's scoring. Weaver tossed in a foul while Roth netted a jump shot to round out Delone's scoring to give the Squires a 19-18 half-time lead.

Delone Pulls Ahead
The third frame was a repeat of the initial quarter with both teams knotting at 18-18. On a fine assortment of shots by Kitzmiller Hess and Wagmild, the Warriors were able to capture the lead in the opening three minutes, but Delone being only three points behind made it up at the halfway mark in the stanza as the lead see-sawed back and forth throughout the period. Wagmild put the Warriors out in front 36-35 but Chas Weaver drove in on the fast break for a layup just as the buzzer sounded and once again Delone was in front 37-36.

NEW YORK—Isaac Logart, a Cuban with a burning desire to wear the welterweight title robes once worn by his fellow countryman, Kid Gavilan, has sped past another opponent.

Last night it was Yama Bahama, a 153-pounder from Bimini in the Bahamas who is neither a full fledged welter or middleweight. The decision for Logart was unanimous at Madison Square Garden after 10 rounds.

Logart, 147½, was called the winner by Judge Artie Adala 7-2-1, Judge Harold Barnes 5-4-1 and Referee Barney Felix 6-3-1. The AP card also had it for Logart 7-2-1.

About 1,500 waded through snow and slush to see the nationally televised bout which was regarded as an even money bet.

ROYALS PULL UPSET IN NBA

CINCINNATI—Jack Twyman came home to the scene of his college triumphs and prodigies last night, and with plenty of crowd encouragement helped Rochester's Royals pull a National Basketball Assn. upset.

Twyman, who rewrote a dozen records in his University of Cincinnati playing days, pumped in 23 points in the Royals' 96-80 win over Fort Wayne's Pistons—first win in a dozen games for Rochester.

A crowd of 6,353 plainly was partial to Rochester. The fans also came to see the Royals' Dave Piotek, who set plenty of records himself when playing for Xavier University here.

The professional basketball game was a trial, arranged by a Cincinnati syndicate that seeks to bring an NBA franchise here, and wanted to see how a pro game would draw.

It was the only NBA game of the day.

Biglerville tuned up for its big game with unbeaten Boiling Springs at Biglerville Tuesday evening by crushing the York Springs cagers 84-19 Friday evening on the Canners' floor to pull with a half game of the Bubblers. The Boiling Springs-Littlestown game, scheduled at Littlestown, was postponed due to poor traveling conditions.

Friday's game was "no contest" after the first period when Coach Bernie Thrush's outfit rolled up a 26-2 advantage. Eleven Canner players scored with Don Bowers netting 18, Larry Shillio 14 and Dick Byers 12. Johnny Schlotzauer got six for the Springers who were held to six goals.

Big Spring took a 13-9 lead in the first period and held on grimly to gain a 57-50 decision over invading East Berlin. At half time Big Spring led 27-22. Bill Haverstick and Charley Wolf netted 15 and 14 for the Indians while Griffie looped 19 for Big Spring.

A goal by Noel Taylor in the last seconds of play gave New Oxford a thrilling 47-46 win at Fairfield after a see-saw battle the whole way. Just prior to Taylor's goal Fairfield had gone ahead 46-45 on Jimmy Musselman's foul. Taylor was high for the winners with 19 and Musselman had 20 for the losers.

WAKE FOREST NIPS CLEMSON FOR 14TH WIN

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press

Looks as if those North Carolina Tar Heels might get some competition yet before the Atlantic Coast Conference season—or post season—ends.

Conference whippings in their second and third games, way back in December, probably cost Wake Forest any chance for the regular season ACC title. But the league picks its delegate to the CAA tournament in a post-season tourney and by that time the Deacons might take a good deal of handling.

They're rolling now, having raised their current streak to seven in a row and 14 of their last 15 with an 81-70 whipping of Clemson last night. It was their fifth straight conference victory, moving them into a second place tie with Duke, each 5-2, compared to North Carolina's 6-0 slate. The Tar Heels, top-ranked nationally, have eight league games left, Wake Forest seven.

True Test Feb. 13
The true test will come Feb. 13 and again Feb. 26 when Wake Forest plays the Tar Heels. In a previous meeting, North Carolina defeated the Deacons, 63-55.

Tulane defeated Mississippi 66-65 to stay close to Kentucky and Auburn in the Southeastern Conference race. West Virginia routed St. Johns of Brooklyn 105-72 and fifth-ranked UCLA defeated Oregon State 59-37 to stretch its Pacific Coast Conference winning streak to 32.

Mississippi State defeated Louisiana State 81-72 in another SEC game and Tulsa won a Missouri Valley Conference test from Houston 78-58. Virginia Military won its first Southern Conference game, 76-60 over Davidson, and The Citadel edged Presbyterian 65-63.

Stanford whipped Oregon 68-52 in another PCC game and Rhode Island nipped Colby 83-80.

Dale Long Wins Baseball Award

HARRISBURG—The Patriot-News and Zumbo Shrine Award of Pennsylvania's baseball "Athlete of the Year" belonged today to Pittsburgh Pirate Dale Long.

James R. Doran, Patriot-News editor who presented the award to the first baseman, cited Long's eight home runs in eight consecutive games last season.

"Not even the great Babe Ruth ever recorded such a feat in his playing days," Doran said last night.

Sam Valentine, guard and captain of the Penn State 1956 football team, was named the state's football "Athlete of the Year."

SNOW UP TO 7 INCHES COVERS PENNSYLVANIA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow ranging up to 7 inches in depth covered Pennsylvania today, creating driving hazards across the state.

The snowstorm, which started yesterday about noon, left 2 to 4 inches on the ground west of the mountains. But in the Philadelphia area the amount was less than an inch.

Elsewhere the depth ranged from 4 to 7 inches. The 6.2 inch snowfall in Harrisburg was the heaviest this winter.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission reported icy spots on the toll road. They were cleared but still hazardous.

General Across State
The snowstorm was general across the state except in the extreme southeast area, which had rain mixed with some sleet and snow.

Temperatures yesterday hovered in the low 30's and upper 20's through the snowstorm. There was some overnight cooling with all areas dropping into the 20's.

The mercury rose at daybreak with Philadelphia and Harrisburg reporting 29 degrees and Erie 20.

The weather bureau at Harrisburg reported a few scattered snow flurries during the morning in the northeast area and in the Pittsburgh district. But generally the snow storm was ended.

Skies were mostly overcast but some breaks in the overcast were expected, with some areas getting occasional sunshine.

BUILDING AND FARM

J. C. Kunkle Family Joins In 4-H Club Activities; Baby Beef Interest Is Tops

Ask Judy May or John C. Kunkle Jr., children of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kunkle Sr., Biglerville R. 2, their favorite 4-H activity and they'll say: "Baby Beef."

Just as the moment it is, but the children are interested and engaged in nearly all the activities going on in the neighborhood.

Selected by the county agents as this week's representative of 4-H members in the county, the youngsters and their father are united in 4-H activity. Judy May is also a Girl Scout and John Jr. is a Boy Scout. Mrs. Kunkle is a Girl Scout leader and the whole family is active in church affairs.

An Active Officer
Like so many Adams County families, the whole group is interested and active in many things, as well as hardworking in farming activities.

Mr. Kunkle in addition to operation of his general farm, including steers and poultry, also does custom work and is local leader of the South Mountain 4-H Agriculture Club.

As to the latter, he notes that his children and wife "got me into that, but I thoroughly enjoy it."

The South Mountain club, to which both Judy May, 12, and John Jr., 11, belong, comprises 11 youngsters in the area who take up projects ranging from caponettes, to rabbits, to flowers and lawns.

New In Baby Beef Club
Currently both Judy May and John Jr. are new members of the Adams County 4-H Baby Beef Club and their two Angus steers are a source of much pride to them.

Judy May is also a member of the South Mountain Home Economics 4-H Club, which took up dress-making this past summer.

Judy is "second class, almost first" in Girl Scout troop 1 at Arendtsville, of which her mother is currently a member of the troop committee and is a former assistant leader.

Church Activities First
At the time a reporter visited the family, John Jr. confessed the Girl Scouts had one advantage over Boy Scouts—he's a member of Troop 70 at Arendtsville. Judy May and her sister, Patsy Ann, who is a Brownie and expects to become a 4-H member next year, were engaged in selling Girl Scout cookies. John Jr. and his brother, Jimmy aged six, were aiding the girls in disposing of Girl Scout cookies. The girls were selling them and the boys were eating "as long as Mom's pocketbook holds out."

"Queen" of the family is 11-month-old Anna Louise, the baby and pride of all the other youngsters, as well as her parents.

Members of Zion Evangelical Reformed Church at Arendtsville, the whole family puts church activities at the head of the list. Judy May and John Jr. are both working on the third year of perfect attendance at summer school. Judy May has attended the Reformed Church camp at Michaux for the last three summers, John Jr. for the last two summers.

The common cold costs the nation an estimated $4 billion dollars a year in lost wages, lost production and medical expenses.

Four-H work calls for both indoor and barn work, as the Kunkle youngsters of Biglerville R. 2 illustrate. Judy May and John Jr. receive expert advice on filling out project books from their father, John C. Kunkle Sr., local leader for the South Mountain 4-H Club. As members also of the Adams County 4-H Baby Beef Club the two spend some time daily in work with their Angus steers in the barn at the Kunkle farm. (Times Photos)

Do's and Don'ts

The Associated Press

DO . . . know that, while laminated plastic of the kind used on tables and sink cabinets will not crack or stain, it CAN (contrary to what some persons think) be damaged by abuse.

DO . . . use a damp cloth for ordinary cleaning, although soap and water, benzol or alcohol also can be used safely.

DO . . . use a toothpick or other tiny non-metal object for removing the congealed grease which sometimes accumulates at the edges of the plastic where it meets the metal moulding.

DO . . . occasionally use a liquid or paste wax on laminated plastic as an extra surface protection.

DON'T . . . use gritty or abrasive cleaning powders unless you want to risk the chance of causing small scratches in the plastic.

DON'T . . . place toasters, percolators, waffle irons or other "hot" appliances on a plastic table top without padding.

DON'T . . . fail to check the maximum safe temperature which the plastic you buy will withstand; a good quality laminated plastic will resist anything up to 275 degrees Fahrenheit, 63 degrees hotter than boiling water.

DON'T . . . make additional holes or cutouts in a ready-made plastic product unless you take steps to prevent moisture from getting into the plywood.

MORE PENSION BENEFITS FOR BALL PLAYERS

NEW YORK (P)—Major league baseball today has a benefit-packed pension plan described by officials as unequalled anywhere. And having met player demands for increased benefits—which include a whopping 75 per cent boost in monthly pension checks—it wouldn't be surprising if the American and National Leagues shelved a request for a raise in minimum salaries during their joint winter meetings today.

The players have asked that the present $6,000 minimum be increased to $7,500.

Pension Benefits Up
The sweeping advance in pension benefits was unanimously approved by the owners of the 16 major league clubs in separate meetings yesterday.

They granted a minimum monthly pension of $88 and upped the maximum monthly check to $550. The new plan, awaiting a federal tax ruling before it goes into effect April 1, also includes a 50 per cent increase in insurance benefits and new disability and hospitalization benefits.

The retirement benefits are available at age 50 to players, coaches and trainers with at least five years service, who have contributed to the plan. They also may postpone collection of the pension checks until age 60 to 65, with additional bonuses.

Ohio's state tree is the buckeye. The nuts have some poisonous qualities, but American Indians ate them safely after continuous boiling.

LABOR SETS ITS SIGHTS ON NEW PAY GUARANTEE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (P)—The AFL-CIO today set its sights on a federal guarantee of two-thirds normal pay for a worker when unemployed—a plan already in effect in some private industries.

A policy statement adopted by the AFL-CIO Executive Council at its winter meetings here urged Congress to require states to provide unemployment compensation benefits amounting to "at least 65 per cent" of a worker's past fulltime earnings.

The proposed maximum benefit would be limited to two-thirds of workers' average weekly earnings. This average is now about $80 a week. The plan thus proposes weekly unemployment benefits of about $55 compared with payments now averaging about $30.

Under supplemental unemployment benefit plans already negotiated by unions with the auto steel and other industries, employers augment state jobless payments to a maximum of 65 per cent of a worker's normal take-home pay.

The labor group also proposed extending to 39 weeks the period state benefits are payable.

In its policy statement yesterday the council said state unemployment insurance laws "continue to be woefully inadequate." The statement was drafted by a committee headed by President Walter Reuther of the Auto Workers Union.

The council was in recess until Monday, but George Meany, the federation's president, continued a round of meetings aimed at ironing out union jurisdictional disputes. The feud may come to a head at council sessions next week.

Zettle Tells Advantages Of Certified Alfalfa Seed And Care In Tree Felling

By FRANK S. ZETTEL
Adams County Farm Agent

For less than a dollar more per acre, certified alfalfa seed can be used, rather than uncertified seed of the same variety.

When this little extra cost for certified seed is spread over the 2 to 5 years hay will be harvested from an alfalfa seeding, the cost per acre per year becomes only a few cents.

Every seed in a package of certified seed is a purebred seed. In a package of uncertified seed this may not be true. Therefore, only by using certified seed can growers be sure of producing plants characteristic of this variety.

Uncertified seed is not likely to yield so high nor be so well adapted to local conditions as certified seed of the same variety.

Even though the total farm seed bill may be high if certified seed is purchased, the difference in seed costs may be returned many times over in yield alone.

Order your seed early but be sure you order certified seed.

Straight Grass Advantages
Much interest has been shown by farmers in the production of straight grass forage on land unsuited for legumes.

There are several advantages of straight grass production over grass legume production. Reseeding is not necessary at frequent intervals. There is less danger of bloat when animals pasture straight grass.

Research conducted at the Pennsylvania State University shows that per acre yields of protein and also forage were higher from highly fertilized grass alone than from stands of the same grass and alfalfa.

The highest economic yield was obtained from yearly applications of 100 pounds of elemental nitrogen per acre. Best results were obtained when 50 pounds of nitrogen were applied in the spring and 50 pounds after the first cutting. Orchard grass produced the most forage per acre although bromegrass, timothy and reed canarygrass were not far behind.

Trees Damage Easily
The large, high-quality trees which produce the best lumber are difficult to fell without splitting. Care in the felling operation helps to prevent possible damage.

Oak and ash are among the species requiring extra care and good judgment in cutting, especially if they are not balanced evenly, or if cutting operations are performed on a windy day.

Fell away from the direct lean as much as possible; center undercut in direction toward which tree is to fall—it should be large and well cut; saw off fibers on compression side, using wedge to keep tree off saw; continue sawing, cutting off all compression wood and hold wood on tension side; use wedges to help swing tree away from lean; when tree begins to crack, saw remaining fibers quickly being careful to prevent saw from getting caught; step aside to watch the falling top, and watch for falling, loose branches.

ulating factor for insuring a larger volume of home building in 1957. Of course, the buyer will pay 5 1/2 per cent interest, because he will bear the FHA insurance premium. And even though some mortgages will involve ultimate payments of $1,000 more for the same house over a period of 20 years, the buyer is not supposed to notice it.

"Good Old Days"
Of course, in the so-called "good old days," when restaurants advertised "all you can eat for 60 cents," everybody paid 6 per cent on their first mortgages and a per cent or more on second mortgages. So maybe our monthly mortgage payments are pretty good after all.

The Housing Institute of the International Statistical Bureau sums up the outlook as follows: "The situation is extremely flexible, and a good sized upturn can take place if the home mortgage situation changes in a way that will encourage increased demand for homes."

Well, one thing seems obvious. If another million new homes are not built in 1957, we'll be falling so far behind the potential market, we'll have a tough job ever catching up.

Vice president Harry S. Truman was sworn in as President on April 12, 1945.

One of the most significant hints as to the trend was made recently by House and Home, trade publication. It said houses are going to continue getting bigger and better. "The number of families with incomes over $5,000 has skyrocketed from 8,607,000 in 1941 to 19,302,000 in 1953 and a probable 25 million or more by 1959."

Perry I. Prentice, the publisher, who follows the home building market by staging round table powwows in every nook and cranny of the country, says: "Here is a market for 17 million better homes—and we haven't built 3 million homes for that market since 1929." He analyzes the need among those 17 million houses as nearly 6 million priced at $18,000 or more. "We haven't built a million houses for that market in 25 years," he says.

Although building costs are still going up, a lot of people don't pay much attention to the price of a house. For years the custom has been to disregard price and ask "How much down and how much a month?"

In spite of that attitude, the Mortgage Bankers Assn., expects the increase in FHA mortgage interest rates to 5 per cent to be "a stimulate factor for insuring a larger volume of home building in 1957."

1,536 Pilots Call Strike February 8

CHICAGO (AP) — A world-wide strike by 1,536 pilots for Pan American World Airways has been called for Feb. 8 by the Air Line Pilots Assn. in a dispute over a new contract.

The strike call for midnight, local time, announced yesterday by Clarence N. Syden, president of ALPA, climaxed a contract dispute between the airline and pilots' union which has been in negotiation for six months.

Syden said the pilots average about $13,000 a year and have not had a wage increase since 1952.

In New York, the company said that the pay scale for pilots is more than $18,000 a year and that for co-pilots more than $12,000.

PILOT LANDS ON TURNPIKE

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Using radioed instructions, the pilot of a small plane landed safely during a snow storm yesterday, then walked away leaving investigators wondering who he was.

The locked Cessna 170 plane was left parked on the unfinished Northeastern Pennsylvania Turnpike Extension near Moosic, where the plane had been guided by the Civil Aeronautics Administration control tower at Avoca Airport.

The pilot told customers at a nearby diner that he had taken off from Buffalo, N.Y.; he left without giving further information.

Another small private craft was forced down during the same snow storm at Finland, a mile and a half south of Quakertown in Bucks County. The CAA tower at Allentown identified the pilot, who was unhurt, as E. Holt. It did not have the pilot's address.

"Killed" One Woman Twice And Ruined His Lucrative Racket

LONDON (AP) — A Salvation Army drummer who admitted killing off 34 "people" in 24 months has been sentenced to two years in jail.

The culprit is 42-year-old Birrell Davidson of Kenneway, Scotland.

He might still be pounding that set of skins, as he did for 20 years, except for one thing.

He knocked off one of those people twice.

Aroused Suspicion
This naturally aroused a certain amount of suspicion, and as a result Davidson found himself telling it to a judge in the Old Bailey police court.

The charge was defrauding the Salvation Army Insurance Co., for which Davidson worked as an agent when not drumming. The prosecution said 3,363 pounds ($9,472.40) was involved and unfolded this tale:

As agent for the company, Davidson sold policies, collected premiums and passed on death settlements from the firm to the beneficiaries. It was dull work paying only 5 pounds ($14) a week. But two years ago Davidson found a way to liven it up a bit.

He stole a pad of 75 blank death certificate forms from a registrar's office. Then he began taking out policies in the names of fictitious

95,000 Americans Killed In Accidents During 1956

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council has estimated that accidents killed 95,000 Americans last year — including 46,000 deaths in traffic.

Both the over-all and motor vehicle totals were higher than in 1955, but the council reported that only a later tabulation of final figures will tell whether the traffic toll set a new record.

NSC tallied up the bill for all accidents this way:

Killed — 95,000.
Injured — 9,450,000.
The cost — $10,600,000,000.
The cost includes wage losses, insurance, medical expenses and property damage.

The all-accident death total showed an increase of 2 per cent over the 93,443 killed in 1955. But the total has exceeded 100,000 in several previous years.

Increase Traffic Deaths
The estimated 40,000 motor vehicle fatalities represented a 4 per cent increase over 1955. A month ago the council had reported traffic deaths had established a new high mark.

But Friday it said that the tentative figure "cannot be called a new record." Instead, NSC referred to it as "virtually a dead-end heat with the all-time high of 39,969 established in 1941."

"Later figures on delayed deaths will revise the estimate," the council said. "And the total may be greater or less than the estimate of 40,000, which is rounded in accordance with sound statistical practices."

Delayed deaths are those which occur days or weeks after an accident.

The council said traffic accidents in 1956 also caused approximately 1,400,000 nonfatal injuries and cost about $4,750,000,000.

One of each 18 persons in the United States suffered a disabling injury from some type of accident.

Other estimates of accidental deaths included 27,500 in homes, a drop of 2 per cent, and 14,300 at work, an increase of 1 per cent. Deaths in various specific classes included 20,000 in falls, a decline of 1 per cent; 6,800 from burns, an increase of 7 per cent; 5,900 drownings, a drop of 7 per cent; and 2,150 from firearms, a rise of 1 per cent.

His Hearing Device Was Much Too Good

PRESTWICK, Scotland (AP)—Strange voices kept hounding Allan Orr in the still of the night as he sat alone in his hotel room.

He brought friends in to listen. They heard nothing but Orr, who is partly deaf, insisted he did. He said some of the voices had American accents and some of the babble included such phrases as "Roger and out." The friends smiled tolerantly.

Last night Orr met a U.S. Air Force man at the hotel bar and told him the story. The American said he had a hearing aid. He asked Orr for his hearing aid, plugged it in his own head and waited. Sure enough he heard a splutter of words and "Roger and out."

The hearing aid was picked up messages from the control tower at nearby Prestwick Airport. Orr said he will trade in the hearing device.

Mule Takes Over As Helicopter Fails

LONDON, Ky. (AP)—Modern Army transportation may have its limits—but not the mule.

This was proven when bad weather forced an Army helicopter to set down on a mountain top. The craft was sent here from Ft. Benning, Ga., to aid in flood rescue work.

Warrant officer William Snyder borrowed a mule from farmer George Barnett and rode down the mountainside to find transportation for his crew.

MUNDT DEFENDS WILSON ON GOOD JOB HE DOES

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said today Secretary of Defense Wilson is "doing a good job" and should be judged on his performance—not by what Mundt called his "mistaken" remarks.

Mundt's defense of Wilson came after the cabinet member denied any intention of reflecting on individuals when he said last Monday there was a "sort of scandal" involved when some young men enlisted in the National Guard during the Korean War and avoided combat service.

The defense secretary said "our criticism is not of the guardsmen" but of a training system which he said is inadequate.

Wilson said in a statement last night "it cannot be denied that the lot of those who entered the National Guard and were not mobilized was easier than that of the young men who were inducted by Selective Service or who volunteered for the active forces" during the Korean fighting.

At the same time, he acknowledged the "great contribution" he said had been made by National Guard units which were called up and fought in the Korean War.

But in issuing this statement, Wilson did not retract the remark that President Eisenhower has called "unwise." That remark has aroused heavy criticism in Congress and among National Guard leaders. Wilson made the remark before the House Armed Services Committee.

He said he was putting out the statement "to avoid any further misunderstanding and to clarify the position" of the Defense Department and himself regarding the guard.

Going On Vacation

Wilson and his wife planned to fly to Florida today to begin a two-week vacation. When he returns, he may undergo rigorous questioning on his views about the guard.

Chairman Brooks (D-La.) of a House Armed Services subcommittee said yesterday he had been informed Wilson would accept an invitation to testify before the group at that time.

Wilson wants all new Guard enlistees to take six months of active basic training. The National Guard favors an 11-week course of training that could be fitted into school vacations.

Mundt said in an interview he agrees with Eisenhower that Wilson's remarks were unwise "because he indicted a whole organization and not just some elements of it."

"But Wilson ought to be judged on his performance at the Pentagon, rather than on what he says on Capitol Hill," Mundt said. "Wilson is doing a good job in his own ballgame."

TAXI-LOOKING TAXIS

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico is determined to have the most taxi-looking taxis anywhere.

Every taxi — regardless of owner or operator — must be the same yellow-and-cream color. And a new order bans all commercial advertising signs on penalty of being impounded and fined.

Author Of Sunday School Lessons In Time: Started Lutheran Pupil Work At U. Of Wisconsin In 1907

The fiftieth anniversary of the beginning of Lutheran student work in America was recently observed in Atlantic City at a meeting of the National Lutheran Council.

At the session it was announced that the first Lutheran campus ministry in a state institution of higher learning was inaugurated at the University of Wisconsin in 1907 by Rev. Dr. Howard R. Gold who carried on the work for nearly ten years.

Rev. Dr. Gold and Mrs. Gold, the former Miss Margaret H. Coover, daughter of the late Dr. Melancthon Coover, who was professor of Greek language and literature at the Gettysburg Seminary, write the weekly Sunday School lesson of The Gettysburg Times and a number of other daily papers.

Rev. Dr. Gold was called as pastor of a small "town-grown" congregation that had been organized in Madison under the aegis of the Board of English Missions of the General Council, later to become one of the merging bodies to form the United Lutheran Church in America.

Now living in retirement in suburban Philadelphia, Dr. Gold, 78, brought a brief greeting to the NLC during the presentation of the report of its Division of College and University Work, which was organized in 1945 to administer student work on campuses throughout the United States.

Dr. Gold went to Holy Trinity Lutheran Church (now Luther Memorial) as the first Lutheran pastor to be called specifically to minister to students as well as to residents of the community.

A few other Lutheran churches had taken an interest in students prior to 1907. However, a pastor had never been called explicitly to serve students.

Constructs Chapel
A year after going to Madison, Dr. Gold led his congregation in a building program which placed a chapel in close proximity to the university, the first Protestant church to be so located in Madison. Students contributed $1,800 toward the chapel.

Didn't Get Chance To Thank This Fellow

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—Ray Fleck was having a little difficulty with his light truck on a slippery grade, the wheels spinning furiously as he slowly made his way up the hill.

Fleck glanced in his rear-view mirror and noticed a car immediately behind him. He remarked to his wife that it was "swell of that guy to push me."

Three blocks away, Fleck pulled into a service station. Another motorist pulled in beside him and said:

"Say, buddy, that car you were towing broke away."

It was then that Fleck discovered his bumper had hooked onto a parked car a half mile away.

KILLED IN CRASH
MT. POCONO, Pa. (AP)—A Bartonsville, Pa. man was killed last night when his station wagon collided with a truck on snow-covered Route 611 four miles south of here.

State police identified the victim as Henry Topfer of Bartonsville. They said Topfer's vehicle jumped a center divider and crashed into a truck driven by William Motter, 31, of Moscow, Pa., who was uninjured.

WOMEN WEAR BAGS
UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Clothing specialists at Pennsylvania State University report that American women annually convert more than 100,000 cotton bags into dresses.

The 100-pound feed bag, which contains one and a third yards of re-usable fabric, is the most widely used for home sewing.

In 1907 there were about 300 Lutheran students at the University of Wisconsin; today there are more than 3,000, of whom 2,400 belong to churches of the National Lutheran Council.

Born in Nazareth, Pa., in 1878, Dr. Gold graduated from Lafayette College at Easton, Pa., and the Lutheran Seminary at Philadelphia. He also studied at the universities of Wisconsin and Pennsylvania. He was graduated an honorary D.D. by Gettysburg College in 1932.

In 1915, at the time of World War I, he was released from his ministry in Madison to serve as a YMCA secretary in a German prison camp in Wales.

Served Several Churches
In 1916-17, Dr. Gold served as executive secretary of the General Lutheran Committee for the 400th anniversary of the Reformation, an occasion that paved the way to merger of three synods and organization of the ULCA.

During 1917-18, he was secretary for the Lutheran Commission for Soldiers' and Sailors' Welfare, a cooperative effort that led to formation of the National Lutheran Council in 1919. For three years, 1920-23, he served as director of the NLC's News Bureau.

Dr. Gold was pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church at New Rochelle, N. Y., (1923-39) and of St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Williamsport, Pa., (1939-47) and then served two years as executive secretary of the Williamsport Council of Churches before his retirement in 1950.

Mrs. Gold has served on the staff of the ULCA's United Lutheran Church Women (formerly Women's Missionary Society) for six years as editor of the monthly periodical, Lutheran Woman's Work, and program materials.

KING SAUD TO EXTEND STAY IN WASHINGTON

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—King Saud of Saudi Arabia has decided to extend his stay in Washington, evidently for further talks with top U.S. officials on Middle Eastern problems.

There was immediate speculation that some difficulties might have arisen in Saud's conferences with President Eisenhower.

But American officials said they were certain this was not true, that the talks had been going extremely well. A spokesman for the King said the meetings have been held "in an atmosphere of warm cordiality."

Dinner For Ike
Such an atmosphere was present last night at a dinner Saud gave for Eisenhower at a downtown hotel.

Saud praised the United States for supporting the principles of the United Nations in sponsoring "peace in the world and self-determination" for peoples under colonial rule.

Responding, Eisenhower said he felt their talks will "bring our countries into closer understanding with each other and, therefore, into closer friendship."

Earlier, the State Department announced that Saud had canceled plans to spend next week at the swank Greenbrier Hotel in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. The announcement said Saud would spend some additional days at Blair House, the government guest house. The King and Eisenhower are expected to meet again late next week.

Today, Saud was scheduled to drive to the U.S. Naval Academy at nearby Annapolis, Md. His program included a luncheon with the midshipmen and a basketball game between Navy and Duke University.

Following an Eisenhower-Saud talk at the White House yesterday, Secretary of State Dulles said the talks so far have "gone extremely well" and that "a good many misunderstandings have been cleared up." He did not go into detail.

Specifically, Dulles told newsmen that Saud now has a much better understanding of Eisenhower's program for insulating the Middle East against Communist encroachment and building up its economic strength.
